REPUBLICAN SENATORS IN SHARP ATTACKS ON LEAGUE OF NATIONS PLAN

Lodge Declares Before Crowded Galleries That the Constitution of the League Would Cause the Monroe Doctrine to Disappear — Senators Lenroot and Frelinghuysen Also in Attacks—Hitchcock Upholds President.

(By The Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Republican senators today returned to their assault on the constitution of the league of nations as proposed to the peace conference at Paris, with Senator Lodge, of Massachussets who will be chairman of the powerful foreign relations committee in the new senate making his first pronouncement since the document became public.

Criticism by the Republicans did not pass unchallenged.

Chairman Hitchcock of the foreign relations committee took sharp issue with the Massachusetts senator denouncing as preposterous his suggestion that the league would take from America its right of self defense. Delivering before crowded floor and galleries an address he had prepared before attending the white house dinner conference last Wednesday night, Senator Lodge warned the American people to consider well before departing from the policies of Washington and to insist upon revision of the league constitution.

Later in the day Senators Lenroot of Wisconsin and Frelinghuysen of New Jersey, made additional demands for amendment of the charter.

Monroe Doctrine Would Disappear.

Senator Lodge speaking before an audience which included diplomatic representatives of several foreign nations deplored proposals to give powers to the league which he said would cause the Monroe Doctrine to disappear, would abridge American sovereignty and in the end promote misunderstandings and war instead of peace which the world so much desired.

The Massachusetts senator assailed especially the provisions for territorial guarantees, mandatories and disarmament. Besides demanding revision of these clauses, the senator declared that domestic questions such as immigration, should be definitely placed beyond the authority of the league.

Senator Lodge told the senate that for Lincoln's government of the people, by the people and for the people, the United States was now asked to substitute on many vital points government, of for and by other people, and declared the nation should pause and consider well before taking this fateful step.

Debate on the league will continue tomorrow with addresses by Senator Knox of Pennsylvania, former secretary of state and Senator Hardwick, of Georgia, Democrat.

Galleries Applaud.

Before Senator Lodge began his address Vice-President Marshall warned the spectators against applause. When a wave of laughter swept over the chamber following a brief colloquy between Senator Lodge and Senator Reed of Missouri, Mr. Marshall ordered that the galleries be cleared, but agreed to rescind the order after Mr. Reed, Senator Poindexter of Washington, Republican, and others had protested.

The incident occurred when Senator Lodge, in a disgression, declared that with the league in operation the United States could not punish a Mexican border depredation until after three months' deliberation by the league's council and its decision, required "within a reasonable time."

Senator Reed remarked that the decision might be defeated thirty years after the border depredation, and Senators and spectators broke into laughter.

In extemporaneous analysis of various articles of the league charter, Senator Lodge emphasized what he termed the "tremendous promise"—on which must be kept if made in Article Ten of the league relating to mutual territorial guarantees.

"I beg my fellow countrymen to consider well," he said, pounding his desk in emphasis and declaring America never could afford to break any treaty obligation.

The Constitution Drafters.

Referring to the statement of Senator Hitchcock yesterday that the charter represented the work of the foremost men of the world, Senator Lodge said:

"I do not regard them with the veneration, perhaps of the senator from Nebraska. I know some of them. Their intellect is not so over-powering that we cannot suggest amendment of this draft. I doubt if any one can name the fourteen men of the conference off-hand."

Senator Hitchcock devoted himself chiefly to an attack upon an account appearing in the New York sun of the White House conference Wednesday night, in which some senators were quoted as saying the president showed an amazing lack of familiarity with the league plan. He denied that any such statements had been made by any members and labelled them as "preposterously false," saying the senators had gone to the white house dinner as guests of the president and had found the president "generous, frank and sincere" in his explanation of the league. Reading from statements attributed to Republican Leader Lodge, Senator Brandegee, of Connecticut, and Senator Knox of Pennsylvania, the Nebraska senator said:

"I renew my statement on behalf of the senators named that they never used any such language."

Senator Lodge's Speech

Delivering his first public utterance on the subject since the constitution became public the Massachusetts senator vigorously opposed the plan and made specific recommendations for amendment. He declared that as now drafted, the constitution would contravene the Monroe Doctrine, strike at American sovereignty, invove America in all foreign disputes, substitutes internationalism for nationalism and be of benefit principally to Europe.

Expressing complete sympathy with the popular demand and efforts toward an agreement for world peace, Senator Lodge said he was not prepared to say that there could not be a concert of the nations to safeguard against war, but he insisted that the agreement for such a concert should be drawn up calmly and deliberately when the world was at peace and not hastily when war still existed.

Senator Lodge, who is expected to be chairman of the powerful foreign relations committee in the next senate which will act on the peace treaty and any plan for a league of nations, was given close attention by senators and crowded galleries. He urged that the nation think well before departing from the policies of Washington and said the paramount duty now was to conclude peace with Germany.

Much Time Wasted.

"Much time has been wasted," he said, "The delays have brought restlessness and confusion everywhere. Germany is lifting her head again. The whimpering after-defeat is changing to threats. She is seeking to annex nine millions of Germans in German-Austria. She is reaching out in Russia and reviving her financial and commercial penetration everywhere. Germany is again threatening and the only source of a great war is to be found for the future as for the past in Germany. She should be chained and fettered now and this menace to world peace removed."

The senator said that while in the interest of peace it might be necessary to abandon the Monroe Doctrine, the policies or Washington and other principles of Americanism the nation should reflect and hesitate before it acts.

"There is an issue involved in the league constitution presented to us which over-shadows all others," said Senator Lodge. "We are asked to depart now for the first time from the foreign policies of Washington. We are invited to move away from George Washington toward the other end of the line at which stands the sinister figure of Trotsky, the champion of internationalism.

"We have in this country a government of the people, for the people and by the people, the freest and best government in the world and we are the great rampart today against the anarchy and disorder which have taken possession of Russia and are trying to invade every other peaceful country in the world For Lincoln's government of the people, for the people and by the people we are asked to substitute for and by other people. Pause and consider well before you take this fateful step.

Must Not Separate Freedom

"We must build no bridges against the chasm which now separates American freedom and order from Russian anarchy and destruction. We must see to it that the democracy of the United States which has prospered so mightily in the past is not drawn by any hasty error or by any glittering delusions thru suspicious

Additional Light On The Situation In Russia Given

(By The Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Additional light on the situation in the portion of Russia under Bolsheviki control is given by a summary of reports secured recently from a member of refugees who passed thru Helsingfors on their way from Moscow to Stockholm.

The summary was made public today by the state department because of the various conflicting accounts of conditions which have been received recently.

"The party at Helsingfors," said the summary, "was composed of French, British, Belgian and Italian citizens, most of them Red Cross workers. The reports all agree as to the excessive cost of all necessaries and scarcity of food. Dog meat is quoted at four rubles (two dollars) a pound, horse meat at fifteen rubles per pound, pork at sixty rubles and bread at fifteen rubles. The country is practically stripped of all manufactured articles especially wearing apparel, and all grain and supplies are requisitioned by the soviet government from peasants who receive nothing in return.

"Typhus is reported to be spreading 1,000 new cases being reported at Moscow weekly and the hospitals are unable to take care of them. Lack of milk has resulted in many deaths of children from starvation.

"The food situation in Russia is very bad and the food is distributed in three categories, a full portion to those doing heavy work a half portion to employs of soviet government, private houses and general office work and one-fourth portion to people not engaged in any occupation The portions depend on the supplies at hand.

"All clothes and other necessities can only be secured thru permission of government by cards and at fixed prices."

Six Surrendered Subs Will Be Brought To U. S.

(By The Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28. — Six of the German submarines surrendered in British harbors are to be brought to the United States soon for exhibition to the public and for study by American experts. They will be representative of the various types of U-boats from mine planters to the great deep sea cruisers.

In announcing today that arrangements for bringing the submarines across the Atlantic had been completed the navy department said the six craft were not part of any allocation of submarines to the Untied States. The ultimate disposition of the surrendered German war craft still is subject to the decision of the peace conference it was stated officially.

Regarding the bringing of the six submarines to America the department's statement said:

"Arrangements have been completed to bring to the United States port six of the German submarines recently delivered in British harbors. These vessels, selected as representing the different types of German submarines, will be brought over for exhibition to the public and for study by our engineers, constructors and submarine officers of the scientific aspects of the machinery, much of which is said to be very highly developed."

There was no indication that the decision had been reached as the ports at which the submarines would be on public exhibition.

REPORT ON WATER POWER BILL APPROVED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—The conference report on the long pending water power legislation was approved today by the house by a vote of 264 to 65, but it has yet to be acted upon in the senate.

The bill privides for the leasing of water power rights for fifty years upon payment of rentals to be fixed by the commission which is to administer the bill. This commission will be composed of the secretaries of war, agriculture and interior. The government retains the right to recapture the rights after the leases expires by paying lesses the net investment represented in their plants.

LORD READING BACK IN AMERICA

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—The British liner Aquitania, bringing 6,893 American soldiers and with a distinguished passenger list, including Lord Reading, British ambassador to the United States and J. P. Morgan, arrived here today from Liverpool by way of Brest.

The army units aboard were mostly negroes, including the 366th infantry, with 125 officers and 3,694 men. Casual company No. 1215 of Illinois, Brest convalescent detachments, 60, 70 and 71 and several groups of casual officers and men also were on the passenger list.

HOPE TO RUSH LOAN BILL THRU BEFORE TUESDAY

President Determined Not To Call Extra Session

(By The Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28. — Differences between Democratic and Republican leaders over the legislative situation echoes from which have been heard daily since President Wilson made known his determination not to call an extra session of the new congress until his return from France may be forced on an issue tomorrow in the senate with the calling up of the "Victory Loan" bill.

Democratic senators have told the president that in their efforts to force an extra session the Republicans would undertake to defeat this measure which provides the means of financing the government during the remainder of this fiscal year.

This information has not changed the president's determination and the Democratic leaders decided to call up the bill tomorrow so that they might determine with reasonable certainly just what were the prospects for rushing necessary legislation thru before adjournment next Tuesday.

Await Conferences.

It was said tonight that the Republican leaders' course would await further conferences early tomorrow and for negotiations with the Democrats and the sounding of Republican senators' sentiment.

Democratic leaders said notice had been given that the loan bill would be held exclusively and continuously before the senate until disposed of by unbroken sessions day and night, if necessary until adjournment. Its importance to the nation's finances, they said, should give it precedence over all appropriation or other measures.

Whether the desire for an immediate early session should be sacrificed to the questionable expediency of defeating the loan measure was vigorously debated among the Republican senators, several of whom were said to have disapproved opposition to the bill.

Democratic leaders tonight expressed belief that the Republicans would not defeat the bill by a filibuster but they admitted that several important appropriation bills undoubtedly would fail. Altho much time was spent in the senate today in discussion of the league of nations and other subjects considerable progress was made there and in the house on the congested legislation. The house passed and sent to the senate the $26,000,000 general deficiency bill nd senate appropriation committee members planned tonight to report the bill tomorrow adding as a rider the house bill appropriating $750,000,000 for the railroad administration.

Some Progress Made.

Other progress included: Formal presentation of the victory loan bill to the senate, adoption by the house of the conference on the long delayed water-power development bill, conference agreement on hospital construction appropriations and negotiations expected to attain prompt enactment of the billion dollar wheat guarantee measure.

At late night sessions tonight the house worked on its last appropriation bill, the sundry measure, while the senate considered the conference report on the bill authorizing the 1920 census, the oil and coal leasing bill and minor appropriation measures.

Many minor bils were passed today by the senate in what members expected was a final reading of the calendar for unobjected measures.

Objection to consideration of many measures was regarded as insuring their failure for the present session.

Discussion of the legislative situation and the question on an extra session stropped out in tonight's senate debate, Senator France of Maryland, Republican, urging his resolution for an extra session beginning March 5 and characterizing as "vicious and un-American the practice of rushing bills thru at the session's close."

PRICE OF LIQUOR IN CHICAGO HIGHER

CHICAGO, Feb. 28.—High cost of liquor wrought woe in the lodging house districts of the city today when the price of "tubs" of beer and "slugs" of whiskey not only went up from a nickel to a dime each, but the containers were smaller. More telling in its effects was the abolition of the time-honored custom of free "eye-openers" between 5 and 6 a. m. In saloons operated by several aldermen and politicians in lodging house districts any "bo" was given a free drink for the first hour after opening. This morning in such saloons huge placards read: "no more free eye-openers."

GERMAN ASSEMBLY PASSES ARMY BILL

Copenhagen, Feb. 28. — The German national assembly, according to a despatch from Weimar today passed the national army bill on third reading.

Nothing Will Be Done About R.R. At Present

(By The Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Uncertainty over the status of railways in the immediate future was largely removed today by director General Hines' announcement after conferring with President Wilson that the government would not turn the roads back to private ownership until congress had more opportunity to consider a permanent program of legislation.

This was generally interpreted as meaning that the railroads would be under government management for at least another year and probably longer. If a special session of congress is called early in the summer railroad legislation might be taken up but most officials believe this could not be completed within four or five months. If there is no special session congress could not start on railroad legislation before a year.

It was said at the railroad administration that the decision not to relinquish the railroads at this time is not a reversal of policy.

The railroad administration has long advocated early relinquishment it was explained, but not until congress had had time to act on the proposed five year extension of government control or to consider other legislation.

PLAN NEW WOMAN SUFFRAGE BILL

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28. — Chairman Jones, of the woman suffrage committee announced today that before congress adjourns another effort would be made to secure adoption of a resolution authorizing submission of an equal suffrage amendment to the federal constitution. In making the announcement, Senator Jones introduced a modified resolution giving states initial authority to enforce the proposed amendment.

The new resolution was designed to meet objections of Senators from the Southern states and was reported to have the aproval as a compromise measure of President Wilson and leaders of woman suffrage organizations. Senator Jones discussed the subject yesterday with the president who was said to have expressed hope that the resolution would be adopted before adjournment.

The measure provides that Franchise shall not be abridged because of sex and contains the following enforcement clauses:

"The several states shall have the authority to enforce this article by necessary legislation but if any state shall enforce or enact any law in conflict therewith then congress shall not be excluded from enacting appropriate legislation to enforce it."

CASUALTIES ON U. S. RAILROADS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28. — Casualies on American railroads during 1917 resulted in the death of 9,567 persons and the injury of 70,970, the interstate commerce commission reported today. During the previous year 9,476 lives were lost and 66,982 persons were injured; accidents on grade crossings of steam railorads numbered 3,673 in which 1,777 persons were killed and 4,356 injured.

Trespassers on railroad property figured heavily in the accident figures, 4,242 having been killed during 1917 and 3,829 injured. Trainmen killed while on duty numbered 1,492 and injured 47,887. Passengers killed were 301 and injured 7,582.

CROWDER WILL AID CUBAN PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28. — Major General Crowder, judge advocate and provost marshal general of the army will leave shortly for Cuba to accept an invitation to advise with the Cuban president and congress on the revision of election laws. Secretary Baker today announced President Wilson's approval of the trip.

In the absence of General Crowder, the senior officer of his corps automatically would assume the duties of judge advocate general but Mr. Baker indicated that he had not made up his mind as to action to be taken in that connection. Brigadier General Samuel T. Ansell, who recently testified before congressional committees in protest against injustices of court martial sentences in the army, is General Crowder's immediate and senior officer of the corps.

General Crowder, while serving with the American army of occupation in Cuba, was assigned to draft the election laws for the new republic and later to supervise the first presidential election.

HOT DEBATES IN WEIMAR OVER DEFENSE BILL

Dozens of Speakers Participate In Discussions

(By The Associated Press.)

WEIMAR, Thursday, Feb. 27. —(By the Associated Press)—An attempt to debate the imperial defense bill against which no one apparently has any special objection, resulted this morning in a series of personal verbal encounters. Dozens of speakers participated in the debate but the word fight was sharpest between the majority and Independent Socialists.

Herr Brass, Independent Socialist started the trouble by a sharp criticism of the majority Socialists on the question of strikes in the rural districts and four times was called to order and twice forbidden to criticise the president's rulings. Herr Schoepflin, majority Socialist endeavored in kind to carry forward the attack and also drew a reprimand from the presiding officer for the bitterness and intemperateness of his attack. Herr Noske, secretary for military affairs, unwittingly threw fat on the fire by challenging Dr. Cohn, Independent Socialist, alleging that he had accepted several million rubles from Adolph Joffe, Russian ambassador to Germany. Dr. Cohn admitted that Joffe gave him about a million marks and ten and a half million rubles. He said the many was for Russian prisoners of war and Russian civilians in Germany Only about 50,000 marks, he added, had been spent for literary purposes and political campaigns.

Herr Noske also launched a bitter attack against the Independent Socialists terming them religious demagague. No scene in the Weimar assembly has equalled that of today. The serious minded leaders apparently are greatly upset and express the belief that it will be impossible to eliminate party differences.

Discuss Army Bill

The discussion of the national army bill in the national assembly and a squabble over personalities that occurred this morning so greatly delayed the procedure of the assembly that it was unable even to begin the discussion of the new constitution consideration of which had been set for today and the two days following. It was thought tonight that the constitution would come up tomorrow.

The assembly in the afternoon than took up the bill for the enactment of the transition law, which provides broadly that the powers once vested in the emperor shall devolve upon the minister president the powers of the former Durdesrat shall be lodged with the senate and those of the former chancellor with the ministry.

Speakers from every part of the country talked at great length to a nearly empty house, the greater part of the members either having gone home or remaining in the lobbies.

ZIONISTS OBJECT TO INVESTIGATION

CHICAGO, Feb. 28.—Legal representatives of Zion City, founded by Alexander Dowie, appeared before a sub-committee of the Illinois house of representatives committee on license and miscellany, in opposition to a legislative inquiry into the conduct of the city by Wilbur Glenn Voliva, overseer of Zion and his followers. The lawyers said Voliva would not appear because he did not recognize the right of the legislature to investigate his city.

City Attorney Theodore Forby and the other lawyers admitted that drug stores and motion picture theatres were barred from Zion City and that physicians were excluded. They declared the "non-believers" who live in Zion City, are not wanted there and that their desires for doctors, drug stores and amusements would not be recognized.

The sub-committee's report on which will depend a general inquiry into social and business conditions of Zion City, is expecedt to be made next week.

FREIGHTER SINKS IN SHALLOW WATER

NEW YORK, Feb. 28. — The Canadian Freight Ship Lord Dufferin sank in 36 feet of water 15 minutes after she had been named on the port quarter by the troop ship Aquitania off Liberty Island late today.

The stern of the freighter which was at anchor, was split to a depth of 20 feet.

One member of the Lord Dufferin crew, George Eperus, of New York, an oiler, was killed in the collision. Several others were injured but none seriously.

The Aquitania which brought 8,000 troops and civilian passengers was not damaged and went on her way.

TAKE UP FRONTIERS OF SLOVAKIA

Paris, Feb. 28.—The peace conference committee which is inquiring into Czecho-Slovak questions today considered the question of the frontiers of Slovakia according to an official announcement.

Statement Of President On Ireland Denied

(By The Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Just what was said about Ireland at the white house dinner conference Wednesday night was the subject of interested discussion at the capital today after Secretary Tumulty had issued a denial of statement attribuatd to President Wilson What Mr. Tumultq specifically denied and said on behalf of the president was a deliberate falsehood, was the following:

"The President told the committee that the Irish question was a matter between Ireland and England and that Ireland would not have any voice in the peace conference at present.'

Mr. Tumulty said he did not know what papers had published the above, but that it had been quoted in a telegram to the white house many messages of protest are said to have been received from Irish organizations based on various reports of the mention of Ireland at the conference.

Mr. Tumulty declined to add anything to his formal denial when asked what the president did tell his guests.

Several members of the congressional foreign relations committee who attended the conference informed newspaper correspondents afterwards that the president made a statement to the general effect of the one to which Mr. Tumulty referred.

Taken Up In Senate

In attacking an account of the conference by the New York Sun correspondent on the senate floor today, Senator Hitchcock, chairman of the foreign relations committee declared that the Irish problem was not brought up seriously and said at first that the president had not answered the question asked on the subject, later, however, he accepted a correction by Senator Williams of Mississippi who interrupted to whisper a statement of his recollection that the president did say that the league had nothing to do with domestic questions when asked about Ireland.

Senator Borah of Idaho, pressed Senator Hitchcock for a further explanation.

"If I understand the senator correctly," said Senator Borah, "what the president said with reference to the question, since he has raised the question himself, with reference to Ireland was that the league had nothing to do with it."

Mr. Hitchcock said that that was the recollection of the senator from Mississippi and that he accepted it was it was quite definite.

"And that," continued Senator Borah, "was the matter therefore with which the league had nothing to do, but which must necessarily be settled by Ireland and England."

"The senator can draw his own conclusion," said Senator Hitchcock.

DENY PERSHING REFUSED TO OBEY

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28. — In making a formal denial today that General Pershing had refused to obey a general order relative to the revision of court martial cases in France, as asserted in the house yesterday by Representative Johnson of South Dakota, the war department disclosed that the commander-in-chief had protested against the order involved as tending to take from him control of disciplinary measures in his forces. The protest is now being considered by Major General Crowder, judge advocate general, and the order may be revoked.

The protest of General Pershing, it was stated at the war department, was in no sense a case of insubordination. The views of his staff have been presented in opposition and are being considered in an entirely regular way. The object of the department, it was intimated, was to expedite review of military sentences for purposes of equalization, not to invade the powers of the commander-in-chief in France.

AGREEMENTS WILL BE REACHED IN MARCH

PARIS, Feb. 28.—(Havas.)—The peace conference plans to reach agreements on the more important questions between March 8 and March 15, Captain Andre Tardieu, one of the French delegates told foreign newspaper correspondents last night. He said the conference had four vital problems to solve—the Franco-German frontier, the Adriatic situation, the Russian frontier, and the question of the freedom of the seas. All these questions probably will be completed in a fortnight.

Captain Tardieu declared that France does not desire to annex the left bank of the Rhine but only wants guarantees which will prevent Germany from using it as a base for attacking France. The Russian question, he added, will be considered late next week.

REVENUE AGENT RESIGNS

Washington, Feb. 28.—John D. Murphy of Pittsfield, Mass., chief revenue agent of the internal revenue bureau for the past year, has resigned to return to private business, probably in Boston. His successor will be appointed soon. Mr. Murphy supervised the revenue bureau's campaign against tax dodgers.

PRESIDENT WILL RETURN TO FRANCE NEXT WEDNESDAY

All Preparations At White House Completed

(By The Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28. — Preparations for President Wilson's return to France were completed today at the white house. He will sail on the transport George Washington Wednesday morning, after speaking Tuesday night on the league of nations with former President Taft at New York.

The president will leave Washington on a special train Tuesday afternoon after the adjournment of congress and will stop for an hour and a half at Philadelphia to see his daughter, Mrs. Sayre, and his new grandson. He will reach New York at 8:30 in the evening, and after speaking will go directly aboard the transport to spend the night.

The close of congress will find the president at the capitol signing legislation and winding up other public business. He will go direct from the capitol to the train, leaving Washington about 2 p. m. and will have lunch and dinner on the train.

During the stop in Philadelphia the president will see only members of his family and will make no public address.

Preparations for the meeting in New York are in the hands of Governor Smith, who will open the meeting and introduce some prominent Republican, probably the head of a civic organization. The addresses by President Wilson and former President Taft will follow.

POSTPONE INQUEST OVER SISTER MARY

TRAVERSE CITY, Mich., Feb. 28.—The inquest over the body recently exhumed from a grave under Holy Rosary Church at Isadore which Leelanau county officials claim is that of Sister Mary Johns who disappeared from the Isadore convent in August 1907, was postponed indefinitely today by Coroner G. W. Fralick.

Following the recovery from the church basement of additional remnants of a Felician Sister's garb, county officials asked for more time in which to conduct further investigations and to summon relatives and acquaintances of the missing nun, who, they say, may be able to identify the articles as having belonged to Sister Mary.

Attorneys for Mrs. Stanislawa Lypchinski, the 50 year old housekeeper of a former priest at Isadore who is held on a charge of murdering the nun, will probably ask a change of venue if the case cose to trial, they indicated today. In the past eleven years the attorneys say, the case has been widely discussed by residents of Lelanau and surrounding counties and there is little likelihood that an unbiased jury could be obtained in the sparsely settled community.

SLAYER OF HERR AUER UNDER ARREST

BERLIN, Feb. 28.—Lindner, a Munich butcher, who early in the week was said to have been the man who shot and killed Herr Auer, the Bavarian minister of interior is now under arrest.

The Berlin Vorwaerts Tuesday asserted that the shooting of Auer which occurred in the Bavarian diet was done by a man named Lindner. Newspapers said Lindner gained admission to the chamber thru connivance of Republican soldiers who had been informed of Lindner's intention to kill Auer. It was asserted by the Vorwaerts, that Lindner, after shooting Auer, made a search for Minister Timm and Rosshaupter who are absent. He then fired blindly and killed Deputy Oesel.

HANGED FOR MURDER

Annapolis, Md., Feb. 28.—John Snowden, colored, was hanged at the county jail today for the murder of Lottie May Brandon, in August 1917.

The jail was heavily guarded by soldiers with machine guns and police from Baltimore to prevent any demonstration or attempts to interfere with the execution, but there was no sign of disorder.

THE USUAL WAY.

The independent candidacy of State's Attorney Hoyne for the mayoralty of Chicago will be of benefit to either Thompson or Sweitzer. But only the returns on election day will show which one has been favored. That's the way with nearly all independent candidates—the one for which defeat is most earnestly sought gets preferment.

A LITTLE PESSIMISTIC

It would probably be well worth while to have a fund from congress for the investigation as to the cause of the flu and the best method for combatting the disease. But it sounds like pessimism for the surgeon general of the navy to predict that another epidemic is almost a certainty for the latter months of 1919. Possibly that statement was just another argument in urging the creation of the investigation fund.

ELECTION TODAY.

This is an election day in Morgan county and a member of the board of county commissioners is to be chosen. M. C. Thompson is the Republican nominee. A vote for him will be in support of a man who will creditably represent the party in the management of the business affairs of the county.

A CHARMED LIFE.

Willis Spaulding, one of the candidates for commissioner in Springfield, received more than 10,000 votes in the recent primary, several thousand more than his nearest competitor. Mr. Spaulding certainly leads a charmed life so far as city politics is concerned, for he has served eight years and is still popular. Mr. Spaulding evidently has the facts to prove that his administration of the light and water department of the city of Springfield has been for the benefit of the people.

HIGHER TAX RATES WITH A VENGEANCE.

A year ago the Chicago officials were not interested in the proposed increase of the tax rate. But a year makes lots of difference. The city council is now on record as favoring an increase from $1.10 to $2.35. This would mean an increase of taxes of more than 100 per cent and it can be put down as a certainty that there will be some loud and long protests from tax payers. Nevertheless, some increase is certain to be given by the legislature, and it is necessary unless some new means of providing the city with revenue can be found.

Three men for [illegible] Y. M. C. A. work have been found guilty of embezzlement and have been given heavy penitentiary sentences. The conviction of these three men out of the thousands engaged in the Y. M. C. A. work is not a reflection upon the great Y. M. C. A. organization. The percentage of "black sheep" is smaller than is often true in organizations of equal size. This statement would apply to churches, lodges or to business organizations.

ELEVENTH HOUR LEGISLATION

President Wilson and some senate leaders are clashing because they do not carry out the president's demand to pass a number of important bills before congress adjourns next Tuesday. The rebelling senators have somewhat the best of the argument and the burden for failure to pass especially needed measures will rest upon the Democratic majority. Some of the most important bills under discussion have been before congress for discussion less than a week and there is good cause for objections to putting thru legislation which has not been thoroly considered. In state legislatures there has often been eleventh hour legislation and it has very frequently been ill advised.

WHO KNOWS?

Figures do not lie, but you can prove almost anything with them. Every little while for months past the public has been told thru statistics of the terrible shortage of cattle and of how the "herds" have been depleted because of the war. Now comes a circular issued by the department of agriculture claiming to give the official figures thruout the world and these figures show a heavy increase in the cattle supply of the world for the past year by comparison with previous years. It seems that the effort to increase production in the U. S., Canada, Argentina and some other countries, was so effective that it more than made up for the losses in France, England and other countries near the war zone. From these figures also one may judge that the cattle losses in the war zone were not nearly as heavy as previous statements have indicated.

Some days there is a great world surplus of wheat and then a little later comes the report that this surplus is mythical and that instead a shortage exists. So too, we have the varying statement about the dangerous cattle shortage and then the figures to show a wonderful increase. Who knows?

THINK OF THE SOURCE

It is reported that the Essex county, New Jersey building trades council which brought fourth the slogan, "No beer, no work," issued this statement from the office of Ernest Boehm, secretary of the federated labor council of New York. Special significance attaches to this fact because it was no other than this same Boehm who was at one time treasurer of a labor peace council, a German organization which the U. S. government suppressed. The slogan which proposes a strike, really does not represent organized labor and comes from a source that has for many months past been anti-American.

"A PUBLIC OFFICE AS A PUBLIC TRUST."

The trades assembly of Jacksonville is going to invite candidates for aldermen and mayor to make statements about the potential program they have mapped out in the interest of Jacksonville. This is a worth while suggestion on the part of the assembly and gives the candidates the opportunity of coming out squarely and indicating in what manner they expect to serve the city if they are nominated and elected to office.

An explanation of how one expects to "serve" is very proper and there is truth in the often quoted phrase, "A public office is a public trust." Every man who is a candidate for office should have some definite idea in his mind about the things that are needed and the manner in which he hopes to bring them to pass.

CONSTRUCTION PROGRAM TO EMPLOY MUCH LABOR

Many states are planning a construction program exceeding the normal quota for the coming season aerrying an expenditure of $300,000,000 for the building of highways with the idea of supplying work for large quantities of labor. Approximately half of the total expenditure will go to labor.

The $300,000,000 of construction estimated will not be sufficient to make up deferred war construction, it is believed, for normally the amount spent on roads in the United States is not far below $300,000,000, and durinfg war times road building came almost to a stop in many localities.

Estimates prepared for the following states are considered accurate within 1 or 2 per cent, according to officials of the department of agriculture: Maine, $1,500,000; Rhode Island, $90,000; Connecticut, $4,000,000; New York, $12,000,000; New Hampshire, $175,000; Kentucky, $1,500,000; Alabama, $1,000,000; West Virginia, $16,000,000; Illinois, $9,000,000; Iowa, $15,574,000; Louisiana, $4,674,000; Texas, $20,000,000; Nebraska, $1,657,089.07; North Dakota, $3,000,000; Wyoming, 653,000; Colorado, $3,900,000; California, $20,000,000; Arizona, $900,000; Nevada, $1,148,849,80; Idaho, $1,000,000.

New Jersey, Maryland and Montana are expected to make considerable expenditures on roads this year.

HOUSE CLEANING

House cleaning! Spring house cleaning! You'll soon be here again! Oh, words of rightful meaning to weary married men! For spring we keep imploring when winter's blasts are roaring, forgetful of the choring that is in order then. We think of sunshine glowing, through waving branches screened, on babbling brooklets flowing to oceans submarined; alas, we are forgetting the soapsups and the wetting, the toiling and the sweating, in shacks that must be cleaned. We think of tuneful zephyrs from some bright summer sea, of sportive lambs and heifers that gambol on the lea; and we forget the mopping, the sloshing and the slopping, the the cussing and the yawping of husbands tired, oh chee! The Springtime is approaching, already she has smiled; the green grass is encroaching where late the snow was piled; but naught my gloom can sweeten; the rugs that must be beaten, cold beans that must be eaten—the prospect makes me wild! Fair Spring wil soon be strewing her flowers along the wold, her gems for mortals' viewing, the crimson and the gold; but I'll be packing pillows and beating rugs and willows 'mid suds in seething billows, while women stand and scold.

MRS. WAYMAN DIES AT LOCAL HOSPITAL

Woman Shot in White Hall Affray Died Fram Wounds—Husband in Army Overseas.

Death came at 3 o'clock Friday morning to Mrs. Frederick Wayman at Passavant hospital, where she had been a patient for several days, as the result of wounds received last Tuesday at White Hall. On that day Mrs. Wayman was at the store of John Singleton at White Hall, when she was shot by Mrs. Mabel Austin. Immediately after the shooting Mrs. Wayman was attended by Dr. Peak and later was brought to Passavant hospital, where she has been under the care of Dr. J. W. Hairgrove.

It was the statement of the physician after the first examination that her condition was critical and the hope of recovery slight. However, the injured woman made a brave struggle and remained conscious until about 1 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Then she began to lose strength and the end came at an early hour Friday morning. Mrs. George Birdsell and Charles Birdsell, mother and brother of the deceased, were at the bedside when the final hour came.

Mrs. Wayman's maiden name was Eunice Birdsell and most of her life was spent in Cass county, where she was married to Frederick Wayman four years ago. At that time she was but sixteen years of age and her husband nineteen. They were the parents of two children, both of whom died, one at the age of eight months and the other at the age of two years. The husband entered the army service July 25 and was sent to Camp Wheeler at Macon, Ga. Since that time he has been in the overseas service of the army. After her husband left for the war Mrs. Wayman gave up her home in Beardstown and has spent most of the time at the home of her mother in White Hall.

The time of the funeral and the place of burial have not been determined as yet. Mr. and Mrs. Wayman, father and mother of the husband, were here from Beardstown yesterday and desire dto have the body interred in the family lot in Beardstown. The mother of the deceased wishes interment to take place at White Hall.

Coroner Rose went to White Hall yesterday to subpoena witnesses and the inquest will be held at 1 o'clock Monday afternoon at the court house.

TRADES ASSEMBLY HELD SESSION

Action Taken On Several Matters of Public Interest—Canidates for City Offices Will Be Heard.

The trades and labor assembly held a meeting Thursday night at which action was taken on several important matters. A resolution was adopted opposing the constabulary bill which is pending before the Illinois legislature, and a copy of the resolution will be sent to the legislators from this district. A committee was named to invite candidates for mayor and aldermen to attend an open meeting at Labor temple next Tuesday evening, March 4, at that time to give voice to their views on city affairs. The committee to handle this matter includes John Shields, Patrick Hayes and Samuel Barton.

Some time since a special committee was appointed to urge upon the board of education a requirement that Jacksonville labor be used in the erection of the proposed high school building. The committee presented a resolution which is given below, and at the present time no action has been taken. The assembly adopted a resolution favoring the Towner educational bill and instructed the secretary to write to congressmen and senators urging them to support the proposed investigation of Postmaster General Burlerson's war administration. The resolution with reference to the high school work is as follows:

"Mr. President and the Honorable Board of Education, of Jacksonville, State of Illinois:

"As representatives of the various labor organizations of Jacksonville, we petition you to have the proposed new High School building built with Jacksonville labor, from start to finish.

"We as citizens and tax payers believe and feel that we are entitled to this work. We feel that we have a right to ask this board to see that it is in your specifications and agreements, and contracts that all must be done with Jacksonville labor.

"It is of vital importance to business interests of the city.

"Respectfully submitted,

CLARK CRIDLAND IN NEW POSITION

Clark Cridland, who has been employed in the ordnance department of the army at Camp Raritan, N. J., has received his release according to a letter which has just reached his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Cridland of this city. However, Mr. Cridland has been offered the position of chief clerk of the maintenance department at the camp and has decided to accept the offer. The position carries with it a good salary. Mrs. Cridland has been with her husband at Camp Raritan for some time past, and it is their intention to begin housekeeping there at an early date.

Mr. Cridland left this city last June, going first to a South Carolina camp, and was soon transferred to Camp Raritan, N. J. He had made several attempts to get into the army service but had been rejected on account of underweight. He succeeded in passing the examination of the draft board and was thus able to enter the army. Prior to his army career Mr. Cridland was employed by the Federal Reserve bank at Chicago.

Musicians ball, K. of C. hall Monday, March 3, 8 p. m. 20-piece orchestra.

A LETTER FROM THE SOUTH

Miss Olivia Dunlap, who for several years past has been in special work for the Methodist church, has recently been making a somewhat extended stay in the south. The following letter from Miss Dunlap from Savannah, Ga., gives an interesting picture of the south from her viewpoint:

Savannah, Ga.. the city beautiful! This historic city is siuated on the Savannah river some 18 miles from the Atlantic ocean. Savannah is rich in historic lore. As you drive over her streets, wander thru her parks, visit the historic homes, you wander back to the early colonial days, for Savannah today gives every evidence of the historic past.

Savannah is a city of 92,000 population, her growth being largely due to the ship yards located here, the winter tourists and the large number of boats from every nation coming to her dock. You see men wearing the uniform and speaking the tongue of nearly every nation. She is truly a city of commerce—a congested city at the present time. Savannah has a past remarkable in the nation's history, for on the site of the now beautiful city the colony of Georgia was founded. Gen. James Oglethorpe with 125 English colonists landed at this place in 1733 and laid the foundation of one of the most glorious states of the south. The first legislature of the state met in Savannah. The city played an important part in the revolutionary war, having been captured and occupied by the British for four years. But in 1782 the British were driven out by the American troops.

Today one of the things of great interest is the old Revolutionary cemetery in the very heart of the city, on Oglehorpe street. Every grave was made away back in the 18th century. It is a play park for the children. Day after day I walked under the semi-tropical trees and read the inscriptions on the old moss covered stones and tombs, heard the laughter of the children as they played, and listened to the negro nurse maids as they sang lullabys to their charges, and I thought that surely the ghost of the grave yard was unkown in Savannah.

The D. A. R., true to their chosen work, have erected a beautiful arch at one entrance to the memory of the heroes of 1776. It was my privilege to watch Dean Howell and daughter sitting for hours in the secret spot.

The entire city of Savannah has the appearance of a large park. There are great live oaks, magnolia palms, beautiful southern moss, jassamine and hundreds of flowers blooming as if it were springtime in Illinois. There are 24 municipal parks. In these parks you see the monuments to the memory of Oglethorpe, Nathan Green; Jasepr Gordon and many other revolutionary heroes. In front of the court house is the burial place. Tom-Chi-Chi, the Indian chief who was the friend of Gen. Oglethorpe. One of the parks in the residence part of the city has in the center a reproduction of the famous fountain Place De La Concorde, Paris, France.

The historic old homes with their marble steps—it matters not how old the home or how dingy the paint, the door knob and knocker are always polished to a finish. It is amusing and interesting to watch the old time darky and his donkey cart dodge the modern auto, and it is equally amusing to see the picturesque negro woman with her vegetable basket or clothes basket on her head, step just a little more quickly over the crossing to give the auto the right of way. The auto is the only thing that is in a hurry down here.

The steamship facilities of Savannah are excelled by no other city in the south land. It is of interest to note that in 1819 the "City of Savannah," the first steamship to cross the Atlantic, sailed from Savannah to Liverpool. The river was full of boats a few days past when fire started in the fertilizer plant on Hutchinson Island, destroying the huge terminal of the seaboard air line railway and 19,000 tons of nitrate of soda exploded. Boats loaded for overseas with cotton, rosin, oil, etc., all caught fire. It was the most terrific sight I ever expect to see. The loss was reported to be over $14,000,000.

From a religious point of view Savannah is rich historically. Here John Wesley preached. It was my privilege to attend church on the spot where it is said he preached his first sermon in Savannah. The street bears the name of General Gordon. On Buhl street stands the historic Presbyterian church, built in 1755, a branch of the mother church of Scotland. Then there is the grand old Episcopal church, so rich in historic lore; the Christ church, covered with vines, and the St. John's cathedral, whose wonderful chimes call all churchgoers on Sunday morning. The Catholics have magnificent churches and wonderful schools.

Sherman's headquarters during the civil war is another place of interest. We visited the Isle of Hope, where are located the great oyster beds. We ordered our oysters on shell and watched the waiter gather them from the water.

Here is located the only successful terrapin farm in the world, run by an Italian. It is known the world over. His special pet is Tobie, who has made 9 trips to New York in his master's pocket. His master's boast is that Tobie has been a guest at the Democratic club of New York City while on one of his trips east.

The weather has been ideal. Many days a wrap is too warm for comfort. The hotels are all crowded, and the streets are alive with people. Seven submarines have just left after spending three days in the harbor. They are certainly wonderful.

With all the invasion from the north, with all the visits from the ships of all nations, with all the 20th century progress Savannah is still and will always be an historic old southern city. She is in truth "Savannah, the southern key to land and sea."

MAY GIVE UTILITIES CONTROL TO CITIES

Bill With This Purpose is Now Before Illinois Legislature.

One of the most important questions which will come before the present legislature is included in a bill which provides for the regulation of public utilities. This bill, which is fostered by the Illinois Municipal league, takes from the utility commission and gives to cities the control of utilities. If the bill becomes a law powers of cities in the handling of utility affairs will be as indicated below:

To determine and fix just and reasonable rates or other charges for any service, product or commodity furnished by any such public utility.

To prevent any unjust and unreasonable discrimination in service, rates or charges.

To require reasonable and necessary additions and extensions to the physical plant of any such utility.

To regulate the quality, adequacy and safety of any service rendered or product or commodity furnished.

To prescribe terms and conditions, subject to the provisions of existing laws, upon which any public utility may occupy streets, highways or other public property, including the fixing of license fees.

To contract with the owners of any such public utility for a period of not more than ten years, concerning rates, charges and service, payment of compensation, reconstruction, rehabilitation of plants and all other matters which do not divest the municipality of the power to regulate such public utility to acquire the same for purposes of future ownership or operation, such contract to be by ordinance to be accepted by the grantee therein.

To prescribe penalties by ordinances for the violation of the provisions of a contract ordinance, adopted under the authority conferred therein.

City Utilities Board.

The bill also provides that any city, town or village by ordinance which has assumed power over its utilities shall maintain a board of public utilities to hear complaints from the said utilities on rates, franchises, extensions, improvements and other grievances and the same as in the petitions presented to the Illinois public utilities commission.

The city shall also have power thru its public utilities body or the proper officer, to subpoena witnesses, order accounts, etc., to be brought before it, compelling witnesses to testify, etc., for the purpose of getting the desired information to act upon petitions which may be presented to the board or proper officer by any local utility.

Any person subpoenaed who refuses to appear, produce records, books, etc., shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined not less than $100 or more than $1000 or by imprisonment in the county jail not more than six months, or both, in the discretion of the court.

Any circuit judge of the state or other court having current jurisdiction shall have power to compel such witnesses to testify and compel books, accounts, etc., to be brought to the local boards of public utilities for examination. The bill further provides that any public utility failing to obey the orders of the local board utility, city council, board of trustees, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and in case a penalty is not specified in an ordinance by the city council, the bill provides for a fine of $200 to $1,000 for each offense.

Providing the city, town or village wants to assume control of its local utilities it shall be submitted by ballot in the following wording: "Shall the ordinance, withdrawing the jurisdiction and control of public utilities operating within the city or village of ..... from the department of trades and commerce, and assuming such jurisdiction and control by the city or village of ..... be adopted?"

The ordinance shall be adopted upon a vote of the majority and shall be properly certified, be forwarded and sent to the Illinois board of public utilities or department of trades and commerce and thereupon the state board shall cease to exercise its powers over the articles as specified.

To restore its powers to the state commission the city has the right to do so by an ordinance which shall also be submitted to the voters.

The closing clause of the bill says: "If any section of this bill or part thereof, or any substance or clause contained in the bill, shall for any reason be held invalid or unconstitutional, such invalidity shall not affect the remaining portions of the bill."

MEN IN SERVICE GET POSITIONS BACK

Reinstatement of Civil-Service Employes Who Entered the Army of Navy.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 28.—In a circular recently distributed by the United States civil service commission attention is called to an executive order promulgated by the president on July 18, 1918, which provides that "a person leaving the classified civil service to engage in the military or naval service of the government during the present war with Germany and who has been honorably discharged, may be reinstated in the civil service at any time within five years after his discharge, provided that at the time of reinstatement he has the required fitness to perform the duties of the position to which reinstatement is sought."

The civil service commission states that, in recognition of the services rendered by civil service employes who entered the military or naval service during the present war, the commission will make special effort to assist these men in securing suitable positions in the government service rather than to leave upon them the entire burden of fighting suitable vacancies.

A man who is eligible for reinstatement under the order may apply to any office or establishment of the government under which he desires reinstatement, but, if he prefers, he may request the civil service commission or one of its district secretaries to enter his name upon a reinstatement list which will be brought to the attention of appointing officers when vacancies are to be filled.

WAR RECORD COMMITTEE

The committee to secure and preserve records of returning soldiers met at the library building yesterday afternoon with a partial attendance owing to the state of the weather. Reports from various sources were heard. Work is progressing slowly. The boys themselves and the sub-committees seem slow to co-operate in the matter. This preservation of the records of returning soldiers is all important. It may not be regarded as very worth while today but later its importance will be very evident.

All returning sodiers are urged to call at the Journal office or the public library, get blanks and fill them out. It will cost nothing. The discharges should be recorded as a generous county board has made this possible free of charge.

REPUBLICAN SENATORS IN SHARP ATTACKS ON LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Amendments proposed by Senator Lodge included a specific provision excluding the Monroe Doctrine from the league's purview. This, he said, could be done in three lines, Immigration and other internal and domestic questions and those vital to national existence also should be excluded from the leagues jurisdiction, he said, adding,

"There should be some definite provision for peaceful withdrawal from the league of any nation that desires to withdraw.

"Let us have a definite statement as to whether the league is to have an international force of its own or is to have the power to summon the ared forces of the different members.

"Let it be stated in plain language, whether the 'measures', 'remoccendations,' or suggestions of the executive council are to be binding on members and are to compel them to do what the league delegates and executive council determine.'

The Monroe Doctrine.

"Unless some better constitution for a league than this can be drawn it seems to me * * * * that the world's peace will be much better, much more surely promoted, by allowing the United States to go on under the Monroe Doctrine, responsible for the peace of this hemisphere without any danger of collision with Europe as to questions among the various American states and if a league is desired it might be made up by the European nations whose interests are chiefly concerned, and with which the United States could co-operate fully and at any time whenever co-operation is needed.

"It must also be remembered that if the United States enters any league of nations, it does so for the benefit of the world at large and not for its own benefit. If we join a league it must be with the view of maintaining peace in Europe where all the greatest wars have originated. Our share in any league must be wholly for the benefit of others."

Declaring that the tentative constitution is open to amendment and change being merely a committee report, Senator Lodge said it should be widely considered and discussed to give the peace conferees complete opinions.

"As it stands,' he said, "there is serious danger that the very nations which sign the constitution will quarrel about the meaning of the various articles before a twelve months has passed. It seems to have been very hastily drafted and the result is crudeness and looseness of expression.

"Before we ratify, the terms and the language * * * must be as exact and precise as free from any possibility of conflicting interpretations as it is possible to make them. The explanation of interpretation of any of these doubtful passages is not sufficient if made by one man, whether that man be the president of the United States, a senator or anyone else."

Abandon Washington Policy.

In detailed criticism of the present constitutional form Senator Lodge said:

"We abandon entirely the policy laid down by Washington in his farewell address and the Monroe Doctrine. It is worse than idle, it is not honest to evade or deny this fact. In the twinkling of an eye, while passion and emotion reign, the Washington policy is to be entirely laid aside and we are to enter on a permanent and indissoluble alliance.

"Under the terms of this league draft * * * * the Monroe Doctrine disappears. I have seen it said that the Monroe Doctrine is preserved under Article Ten; that we do not abandon the Monroe Doctrine we merely extend to all the world. How any one can say this passes my comprehension. Under this draft American questions are all alike put within the control and jurisdiction of the league."

Criticising the territorial guarantee provision, Senator Lodge said that the United States would join in the obligation to maintain all national boundaries everywhere, which he said was "a very grave, a very perilous promise to make." It would require, he said, constant possession of fleets and armies, and added:

"There is no need of arguing whether there is to be a compulsive force behind this league. It is there in Article Ten absolutely and entirely in their guarantees."

Senator Lodge questioned whether the proposed draft "really makes for harmony among the nations or will tend to produce dissension and controversy.'

"We all desire peace," he said, "but in our zeal for peace we must be careful not to create new obligations and new and untried conditions which may lead to fostering war rather than peace."

Senator Lenroot Assaults.

Senator Lenroot of Wisconsin, Republican in an address late today in the senate predicted that the American people would insist upon basic amendment of the proposed constitution of the league of nations. He said he was in favor of a league if it did not abridge the sovereignty of the United States and suggested that as the league was an experiment, it's life be limited to ten years with provision for extension if the plan proves a success.

Many articles of the league's tentative charter were approved by Senator Lenroot, but he vigorously opposed others, especially those for reciprocal territorial guarantees and for mandatories. Disagreeing with most Republican critics Senator Lenroot said the disarmament provisions were optional and he expressed the belief that they would not result in material reduction of armament.

He concurred in the view of other critics that the United States would be outvoted in the league.

Territorial Guaranty.

Attacking the territorial guaranty section Senator Lenroot declared that not only might it require use of American forces thruout the world but that it also would prevent the people of a nation seeking greater freedom.

"We become party to every little quarrel in Europe and contribute American boys and American money to stop," he said. "No such obligation should be imposed upon us. The European nations * * * * should be primarily responsible for the peace of Europe * * * * * * and the United States for peace in the western hemisphere.

"If there had been a league of nations with this proposed constitution at the time of the revolutionary war there never would have been a United States, there never would have been a Star Spangled Banner. We should still be one of the dominions of Great Britain for France could not have come to our aid."

Declaring he would gladly vote to ratify a league, "having the fullest powers consistent with our own interests and safety, Senator Lenroot said the president should have complete views of the senate, as the treaty ratifying body, and the American people so that he may suggest amendments in the charter upon his return to France."

New Jersey Senator Attacks

Disputing any assumption that President Wilson represents public sentiment in proposing America's participation in the league of nations, Senator Frelinghuysen, of New Jersey, Republican speaking today in the senate, demanded that the country be fully informed and allowed to express its decision before the senate is called upon to ratify the peace treaty.

The president is the chosen leader of the United States, Senator Frelinghusen said. Any proposal which he makes will naturally carry with it great weight. I he proposes in behalf of the United States, the use of the army and navy to preserve the peace of the world what position would the senate be in should such a proposal be adopted. Constitutionally we will be free to reject anything which the executive may negotiate. "Will we however, be free from embarrassment should other nations say to us 'your chief executive spoke in behalf of the American public and supposedly voiced their views."

Senator Frelinghuysen said that notwithstanding the fact that the president gave assurances that the conclusion of peace was of "transcendent," importance spring has almost come and the president has returned without any treaty of peace. He added that the president had never communicated, as he had promised, any information to congress during his twelve weeks in Europe.

"Criticism does not necessarily mean hostility," the speaker said. "If it is possible to have a league which will substitute the pen for the sword we most certainly want it."

The conclusion to be derived from the president's Boston speech, the New Jersey senator said, was that Europe today is a seething cauldron and that nations will be at each others throats within a generation unless we prevent it, and that none of the nations of Europe trust each other, but that they all trust us."

"Are we to join such a partnership?" the senator asked. The role of peacemaker in such a combination is indeed one to be seriously considered."

S. S. S. Greatest Blood Remedy Gives Results When Others Fail

Nature's Remedy for Blood Troubles

The purifying and curative properties of Nature's great remedy have made S. S. S. for the Blood" a household saying. Thousands today enjoying perfect health owe their recovery from blood or skin diseases to this universally used blood purifier. S. S. S. is made entirely from roots, herbs and barks, which possess cleansing and healing ingredients. You cannot be well when your blood is impure; you lack strength and energy natural with health; your complexion becomes pale and sallow; your vitality is weakened. When waste or refuse matter, which Nature intends shall be thrown off, is left in the system, it is absorbed into the blood and boils, pimples, rashes, blotches and other eruptions of the skin appear.

S. S. S. goes into the circulation and removes every particle of blood taint or poison of every character. All skin diseases and eruptions pass away, and the smooth clear skin, glowing with health, shows that the body is being nourished by rich, pure blood. Rheumatism, catarrh, scrofula, contagious blood poison, all are deep-seated blood disorders, and for their treatment nothing equals S. S. S. Get S. S. S. at any drug store. FIRST LECTURE AT CENTENARY CHURCH

In a special cable to the Chicago News, Junius B. Wood, said the following about Col. Smith, who is to appear at Centenary church next Tuesday night:

"When Col. Smith led his 'Battalion of Death' beyond the lines it was surrounded by Germans. The men fought for three days and were reduced in number from 1,200 to 325 before other elements came to their assistance. They kept up such a fight that the Germans thought an entire regiment was there. The major gave orders to his men not to permit the Germans to get close enough to discover their number unless they were prisoners. One bunch of twenty seven Germans was captured. After surrendering and seeing the small numbers of the Americans they threw grenades, hoping to escape. None did.

"The major lost four adjutants in one day, showing how hot the spot was in which he found himself. He killed four men himself, which is some record for a fighting major."

HOOPESTON OFFICERS SERVE WITHOUT SALARY

"No Pay" Plan Has Been Followed in That City for Many Years With Good Results—Former Mayor Writes Letter.

The plan of having a mayor and other city officers serve without pay is not new in Illinois. Hoopeston, a city of 6,000 inhabitants, and often referred to as a "model city,' has followed the plan for years. There the positions are held as honorary, very much as is true with membership in boards of education. The duties are not accounted as more onerous than devolve upon school board members, and the amount of money expended is no greater. I. E. Merritt, president of the Hoopeston National bank has served several terms as mayor altho he is not now holding that office. In a letter to the Journal Mr. Merritt said:

Gentlemen:—Your letter at hand relative to the City of Hoopeston. In reply will say the mayor here receives fifty cents a year and the aldermen twenty-five cents per year. We feel that we can get much better men for this office than we would get were we paying a salary. For instance, none of the men who have been mayor for the past number of years would have been mayor for a salary of a thousand or fifteen hundred dollars, but would for fifty cents.

"The city is practically out of debt. We owe some on the city water bonds but have enough bonds bought to meet them when due. In a city of 6000 we have some eighteen or twenty miles of paving and everything else in proportion."

IMPROVEMENTS AT COURT HOUSE

Not long since the offices of County Clerk G. L. Riggs were improved with paint and some improvement work of the same kind was done in the corridor. More recently the circuit court room has been repainted and now presents a very creditable appearance. The work was done by S. L. Biggs & Son. The county board authorized this work, which was certainly greatly needed. There are still other courthouse improvements which would be well worth while and will probably be given attention by the board with passing time.

MRS. W. L. RHOADS DIES FROM PNEUMONIA

New York Woman Here for Funeral of Her Mother is Pneumonia Victim—Leaves Husband and Family of Four Children.

Mrs. W. L. Rhoads died at 12:15 o'clock this (Saturday) morning at Our Savior's hospital. Mrs. Rhoads, who is a sister of Mrs. William Barbre, 202 South Prairie street, came to Jacksonville three weeks ago to attend the funeral of her mother, Mrs. D. K. Moore.

The day following the service Mrs. Rhoads contracted a severe cold which developed into pneumonia. The patient was cared for at the home of her sister until last Sunday, when her condition became so alarming that she was removed to Our Savior's hospital. There every possible means of relief was tried, but there was no improvement, and she grew gradually worse until the hour of her death.

Mrs. Rhoads' maiden name was Grace Moore and until the time of her marriage the family home was in Roodhouse. For a number of years Mr. and Mrs. Rhoads were residents of St. Louis and in 1918 removed to Elhurst, Long Island, Mr. Rhoads being associated with the New York offices of the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. Mrs. Rhoads is survived by her husband and four children, all of whom have been in Jacksonville for the past three weeks. Prior to this illness Mrs. Rhoads had been in such excellent health and she had so much to live for, that her untimely death brings a special measure of sorrow to relatives and friends.

The remains will be taken to Roodhouse on the 10:15 a. m. train Monday, and the funeral service will be held in the Methodist church there at 11:15 o'clock. A further notice will appear later.

WITH THE SICK

Dr. E. Sipes is seriously ill at his home on West Court street as a result of influenza and pneumonia. Last night his physician expressed the belief that there is little hope of recovery.

U. S. EXPENSE IN JANUARY DROPS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28—Cessation of war activities permitted government expenses in February to drop to a little more than half the rate for the past three months. Liquidation of war contracts following passage of the bill clearing the way for this action, is expected to swell expenditures in March however.

With the last two days' expenses not yet tabulated the treasury reported its outlay in February $1,065,000,000 which may be increased to approximately $1,150,000,000 by final reports.

Approximately $942,000,000 went to pay the government's ordinary war bills and $115,000,000 as loans to allies.

BLACK CAT

FUNERALS

Sutton.

Funeral services in memory of Miss Georgia Sutton were held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the undertaking rooms of John G. Reynolds. The service was in charge of Dr. E. B. Landis. Interment was in Diamond Grove cemetery and the bearers were William Hall, Charles R. Knollenberg, George Hollinger, Irvin Stevenson, Edward Caldwell and Capt. F. C. Taylor. The death of Miss Sutton occurred recently at Colorado Springs and the remains were accompanied here by the sister of the deceased, Mrs. Margaret Lefevrem.

Scott

Funeral services in memory of Mrs. Albert Scott were held at the family home on Pine street Friday afternoon. A large company of sorrowing relatives and friends gathered there for the services, which were in charge of Rev. W. S. Phillips, of Carlinville, and Rev. J. O. Kirkpatrick. While Mrs. Scott was a resident of the Point Neighborhood she was a devoted member of the church there, and during the pastorate of Rev. Phillips there was established a close relation of friendship with the family. So the minister was able to speak in an intimate way of the home life of Mrs. Scott and he referred to her as a mother who kept constantly in mind the care and comfort of those in her family circle. The spirit evident there also reached out beyond and characterized her friendly relations with people of her home neighborhood.

Mr. Phillips' brief remarks were based upon the Bible words: "She hath done what she could." Mrs. Scott's christianity was not of an obtrusive type but none who knew her could question her sincerity or fail to appreciate the influence of her example and spirit. The minister closed with words of comfort for the sorrowing ones, emphasizing as he did the thought that the good in such a life does not end at the grave.

Rev. J. O. Kirkpatrick read appropriate passages of scripture and conducted the committal service at Diamond Grove cemetery. Music of an appropriate character was furnished by Mrs. Hubert Littler, Miss Clara Ranson, Rev. W. S. Phillips and W. W. Gillham. There were many beautiful flowers and they were cared for by Mrs. Mabel Bobbitt, Misses Opal Marshall, Maude Holmes and Harriet Scott. The bearers were Albert Richardson, Grover Vasey, Allen Scott, Scott Holmes, Albert Killam and G. A. Leach.

Nolan.

Owing to the ill health of Mrs. Nolan and the inclement weather it was deemed advisable for Mrs. Nolan not to come east as was intended for the purpose of bringing the body of her husband for interment in the cemetery at Rushville, by the side of Mrs. Nolan's parents, so brief services were held Saturday morning, Feb. 23rd in Brown's Chapel, where were gathered quite a number of residents of Jacksonville and Rushville, long time friends of the family. Dr. Harlan, for some years president of Cornell College, offered prayer and read selections from Holy Writ, and also a tribute written by one who had known for many years and appreciated Mr. Nolan as a noble Christian gentleman. After singing of the hymns, "My Faith Looks up to Thee," and "Nearer My God to Thee," the casket was interred in a beautiful sunny lot under a large palm tree in Inglewood cemetery.

The following tribute was paid to Mr. Nolan's memory by the minister:

"The glory of our lives below
Comes not from what we do, or what we know,
But dwells forevermore in what we are.'

So, the influence of a good man, active in the service of God and humanity, goes on bearing rich fruit to all Eternity. David, in one of his psalms, said, "Mark the perfect man, and behold the upright, for the end of that man is peace."

What did it matter for this friend and brother whom we are honoring today what time the "one clear call' came for him? His lamp was trimmed and burning, and his spirit ready for the Master's summons to "come up higher," and receive the blessed recompense of the children of God. And so, we believe his spirit took its upward flight to the Haven of Peace, and has entered into the glories of the redeemed, to be forever with the Lord.

The pleasantest word that a man can hear at the close of a day's toil, whispered in secret to his soul, is, "Well done, good faithful servant!" and to hear the Master's voice speaking thus at the close of life's day, must have brought joy and comfort to the one whose years are just numbered, after a life spent in God's service.

It was the earnest endeavor of this Christian man to do some good in the world: to carry his share of the world's great burden; to bring his lading of treasure, small or great, into the port of usefulness, to make his influence count for something on the side of honesty, principle, courage, helpfulness, strength and faith in God and man. It was his constant aim to help uplift and benefit humanity and in his simple, humble way to be one of the Lord's stewards. In his early youth he consecrated himself and all that he had to God, making those words the foundation of his life: "I will go in the strength of the Lord God: I will make mention of Thy righteousness even of Thine only." "O God, Thou hast taught me from my youth; and hitherto have I declared Thy wondrous works. My lips shall greatly rejoice when I sing unto Thee; and my soul, which Thou hast redeemed."

His life has been one of integrity, simplicity and earnestness of purpose. It was a life of self-sacrifice, for he often chose the hard places, that others might have the ease and pleasure he could have enjoyed. In the church he was a trusted, faithful servant; in the community a man respected and esteemed; in his home he was a devoted, tender husband, giving all the depths of his loving heart to the one who has made life most beautiful and precious to him What wonder that the end of this man was peace? Out of life's conflicts and pain, he has stepped across the threshold into the sunlight of Gods heavenly mansions and gone on to the reward of the faithful, and won "the victory which overcometh the world." So let this comfort our hearts, that he has gone on to wait our coming, and let us take away this thought "Be ye also ready for in such an hour as ye think not, the Son of Man cometh." May the sustaining grace of the Comforter he loved and trusted come to each heart here today, and the peace that passeth understanding abide with each of us'

KAISER BILL BROKE; SENDS HOME FOR FUNDS

(By The Associated Press.)

WEIMAR, Feb. 28.—(By The Associated Press.)—The former German emperor it is learned from competent sources recently appealed to the German revolutionary government for money. It was said in his behalf that it was impossible for him to continue o live upon the bounty and good will of the Dutch nobleman in whose castle he now resides.

Herr Hohenzollern, it is said, declared he already had been forced to borrow 40,000 guilders from his host and could not continue as a debtor. He asked that he be allowed at least a portion of his private fortune.

The government ofter considering the matter, agreed to his request and instituted a detailed investigation to determine what portion of the former emperor's supposed fortune realy was his and what portion belonged to the government. Investigation showed that the former ruler might legally claim 75,000,000 marks as his own, but the government decided to allow him temporarily only 600,000 marks to meet present indebtedness and future expenses.

The correspondent's informant in calling attention to this development declared it put an end to rumors that the former emperor had been able to take large sums of money with him when he fled to Holland.

STATE ISSUES PAPERS FOR NEW CONCERN

J. Bart Johnson Co., is Incorporated—Business Will be Enlarged.

Articles of incorporation have been taken out by J. Bart Johnson and a new company organized to be known as J. Bart Johnson Co., Inc. The incorporators are J. Bart Johnson, who will be the new company's president; Charles Eichholz, vice president; Leo S. Johnson, sec'y-treas. Leo Johnson will be the general manager of the new firm. As incorporated each of the gentlemen named will hold one-third of the capital stock.

A little more than thirty years ago an energetic, genial, optimistic young man, a piano tuner by trade and a lover of all things musical, started a small business in the rooms above the present Gilbert's Pharmacy, selling band and orchestra music by means of advertising in trade papers and filling mail orders received.

This man was J. Bart Johnson, so widely and popularly known thruout this and adjoining states in later years as "Bart-Everything Musical."

Mr. Johnson's business grew rapidly and soon more space was needed. A move was made to 71 east side square, the present location of Long's Pharmacy, and it was here that pianos and organs were added to the business. After a few years a move was made to West State street, then to South Sandy street, and finally about eight years ago to the present store room on the south side of the square, both floors of the building being in use, the lower being specially fitted for the display and demonstration of victrolas, the upper floor being devoted to pianos exclusively.

Mr. Johnson has in his possession a stock, book showing every sale of a piano or organ which he has made since 1893, this book showing price, name of purchaser, residence and instrument bought.

J. Bart has been actively identified with the musical interests of Jacksonville since 1882, playing in bands and orchestras, being most proficient on a number of instruments. In 1882 the Juvenile Band was organized. Mr. Johnson being a charter member and active in its progress and success.

Leo S. Johnson began his musical studies almost as soon as he could toddle about the old family home and during more recent years has been interested as a professional musician in this city, where his wide acquaintance and long association with things musical eminently fits him for his new duties. He has resigned all connection with the Rialto theater orchestra and will give his entire attention to the store.

Charles Eichholz, the absentee stockholder in the new corporation, is a lifelong friend of Mr. Johnson whom he is particularly glad, and considers himself fortunate to obtain as a business associate. Mr. Eichholz has been identified with the Wurlitzer interests for the past 21 years, the last 12 years as credit manager, in charge of their Chicago interests. The Wurlitzer company operate 24 large stores. It is possible that later, as the new business develops and his services are needed, Mr. Eichholz will take up his residence in Jacksonville and become closely identified with its musical life.

As in the past the policy of the Johnson store will be that of a square deal to all, the handling of "Everything Musical" at a fair profit, a devotion to the encouragement of the study of music and the promotion of harmony, and continue a booster for Jacksonville first, last and all the time.

W. E. Day, who was associated with Mr. Johnson for over eeven years, has taken a position with the W. W. Kimball Piano Co., Chicago.

IN MEMORY OF MRS. NEALIE JANE COLE.

T'is hard to break the tender cords
When love has bound the heart
'Tis hard, so hard to speak the words,
"We must forever part,"
Dearest loved one we must lay thee
In thy peaceful grave embrace,
But thy memory will be cherished
Till we see they heavenly face

Weep not that her toils are over,
Weep not that her race is run
God grant that we may rest as calmly
When our work life here is done.
Till then we yield with gladness
Our one to him to keep
And rejoice in the sweet assurance
He giveth his loved one sleep.

Precious mother she has left us
Left us yes forever more,
But we hope to meet our loved one,
On that bright and happy shore
Lonely the home and sad the hours
Since our dear one has gone.
But oh! a brighter home than ours
In heaven is now her own.

There is no death an angel form
Walks o'er the earth with silent tread
And tears best loved these things away,
And then we call them dead,
He leaves our hearts all saddened
He plucks our fairest, sweet flowers
Transplanted into bliss thee now
Adorn immortal flowers

A Friend.

MARCH HOG PRICE A MANY SIDED QUESTION

F. S. Snyder of Meat Division of Food Administration Made Interesting Statement Before Group of Packers.

During the past month conferences have been held between packers and representatives of the food administration, mainly with reference to meat supply for foreign countries. Some of the conferences have been in Washington and others in Chicago. The last of the Chicago conferences was held about a week ago at the federal building, with more than 50 packers present from many different states, the roster showing the name of Fred Begg of the Powers-Begg Co. of Jacksonville. Frederick S. Snyder, chief of the meat division and of the division of coordination of purchase of the U. S. food administration presided at that session. While the conference was not called for the purpose of considering the March price on hogs, an interesting discussion of that subject developed.

Mr. Snyder's views on the subject were recently made public and have very great general interest. There is far more to this question of maintaining a hog price for another month than the average citizen realizes, and judging from Mr. Snyder's statements there is little certainty that if the government control were released that there would be any permanent lowering of prices, and in fact the hogs might take a higher level. This is a question upon which leading livestock authorities hold different views. Same paragraphs from Mr. Snyder's very informing statement follow:

I will say at the outset that lacking information from Europe on the developments which will take place between now and next Monday, I shall feel unable to say to you that a course could be charted until that information was in hand. I am perfectly confident that a telegram sent out to the members of the Agricultural Advisory Committee would result in a practically unanimous, and perhaps entirely unanimous vote that $17.50 be maintained for the month of March, I am told today, within the last few minutes, that an informal expression on this subject coming from four of the five Class "B" packers is to the effect that they must go forward on the same basis that they are now on, and that they are prepared to vote for the $17.50 basis for March. That includes all of the Class "B" packers except Morris & Company, who have not had the matter presented to them. I little doubt but that they would take the same general view. That would leave the matter up to the Food Administration substantially, and to the Class "A" packers.

Present Price a Fair One.

Now, the maintenance of price in both directions is, of course, of some consequence. I mean by that that I shall be sorry to see twenty cent hogs, because I think the price the farmer is now receiving is fair, and to have twenty cent hogs pressed upon us simply would mean that the farmer would be receiving a higher price than I think the circumstances warrant. On the other hand, if the Teutonic markets open up and England returns this month to a normal basis of demand, and the demand continues, as it must, for relief work, and the shipments go out, whether your shipments or those of the Class "B" packers, it means that we are not going to have enough to go around and the market may run away from us.

Personally I am frank to say that in my judgment I should do what I could to prevent that. The way to prevent it, of course, would be to open up the supply of hogs in every direction to the markets, invite the Canadians to come in, as I invited them a little while ago to keep out, and I think they have accepted the invitation; and to open up the European markets to other fats, and facilitate the export of those fats, and of lard substitutes and barrelled beef, and so forth, and in that way do what I could to keep the thing from running too far in that direction. I am not at all confident that even all those measures will be effective in the month of April.

Board Acceded to Request.

The situation, of course, confronting us now is for March. The War Trade Board acceded to my request and imposed the limitations on exports to European countries, and they have made their licenses subject to the approval of the Food Administration as to price, which price is to be the reflected stabilized price which has been in force now for four months. They have the powers of an independent branch of Government to destroy that protection which at the moment is a very ample protection. You can see why that is so. If all the countries in Europe ceased to do centralized buying, and yet the Food Administration O. K'd. licenses for export only upon the basis of the stabilized prices, it would mean that that European price would be held rigidly, and there would be no difficulty whatever in maintaining stabilization indefinitely.

It is, however, against public policy to maintain that unreasonably. The Food Administration itself proposed only to extend its protection to the extent of its ability for the hogs farrowed last spring, and that, of course, necessitates their marketing within a reasonable period. Now many of them could be marketed. Many of them are being retained for breeding stock. Many of them are farrowed late and not in the spring, so it is clear that a stabilization plan would find its naturalend with the month of March under any ordinary circumstances.

Danger of Too High Prices

I think I can say to you, therefore, that I could not recommend as a matter of good policy, that a stabilization period be extended beyond that time, and I fancy there will be no need for it whatever. I think, further, that the danger, as I have already indicated, will be of prices running too high rather than they will require support of any kind.

With further reference to the March situation, it depends, as I have said, on the War Trade Board, and consequently it depends upon the opinion, in part, and the acts in part, of the purchasing agencies in Europe. If the whole situation is opened up widely in Europe to normal trading, I cannot believe that the War Trade Board will be willing further to keep up that bulwark of protection. I will say frankly, that I assume they will say that if we are on a pre-war basis in Europe we have no right to stay further on a war basis in this country.

I have told you everything that is in my mind. I propose to cable the impressions I have received from these conferences to Mr. Hoover, and to receive from him, when I return to Washington on Monday, the latest information as to the situation on the other side, and on Monday we will be able to reach some decision. I assume that stabilization is of value even to the concern which is not only not sharing in allotment orders, but never has. The concern which has never shared in allotment orders is buying upon the basis of the domestic market more nearly. The allotment concern is buying upon the basis of $17.50 stabilization, and they are probably suffering more in their domestic sales and profits and recouping themselves in part from their foreign sales, and it is a question in my mind whether they are so materially better off than concerns who are not under the allotment plan, provided the concerns who are not under the allotment plan are sufficiently removed from the centers of chief activity in the packing business. Smaller concerns in the south who are buying more nearly on a local basis and selling on the same general basis are not particularly interested and are not very seriously affected, if they are sufficiently far out of the orbit and influence of this stabilization plan.

Desired Expression of Opinion

What I would like to get from you is an expression of opinion as to whether or not you would like in case the conditions are favorable for the purpose, to vote for the extension of the plan to the month of March, with the understanding that your vote means nothing except an expression of opinion, which might be taken advantage of, and which would then, if you voted affirmatively and unanimously, be taken as an expression of opinion upon which we might act in Washington, without, perhaps, the necessity of calling a meeting. On the other hand, if the action taken in Europe were of such a character that we knew the period of stabilization was destroyed so far as Europe was concerned, I expect to send you a message to that effect, stating that the market situation was such that conditions were necessarily returned to normal.

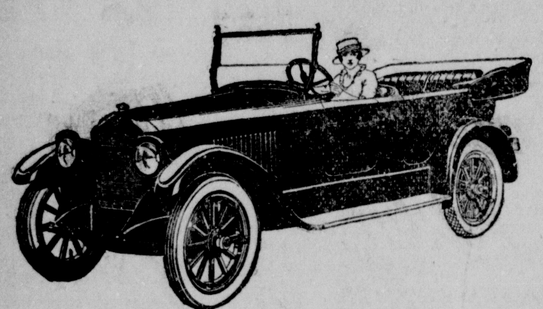

Increase in the Market.

In that case I suppose the immediate effect would be some disturbance. I should ask the Railroad Administration to continue the retarding effect of an excess of hogs coming to the market, and while I should look for a disturbance perhaps for a week or so, I should look for an eventual increase in the market, and that increase would come and go temporarily, based upon the normal supply and demand, and would be more likely to get out of hand eventually and into high prices than it would if general stabilization existed.

If an announcement went out on the $17.50 program, I believe that would have the effect of holding the prices down on the basis that the expectation of the country was that a $17.50 price would be maintained. On the other hand, if we had a sag in price following the loss of confidence in the situation, and then the market went higher on the return swing of the pendulum, I should expect it to go higher than it would under other circumstances.

Those are opinions based upon experience in the last few months in dealing with the general situation, and also, of course, upon some thirty years experience in this general line of business.

THE MILLION DOLLAR CAMPAIGN

The Lutheran laymen's league, an organization of influential laymen of the Missouri synod, has launched a drive for a three million dollar endowment fund. Among the commencement members of its own synod, the income of which will be used to support the synod's incapacitated pastors, professors, teachers and the widows and orphans of the deceased.

Bought Millions of Dollars Worth of Liberty Bonds.

The members of said synod have enthusiastically subscribed for a large number of Liberty Bonds. Almost every congregation knows the approximate amount of Liberty Bonds purchased by its members. A resolution was adopted that all congregations be asked to raise a sum which would equal at least 10 per cent of the Liberty Bonds purchased by their own membership and donate the same to the endowment fund.

Campaign for Three Million Dollar Endowment Fund Is On

This amount should be raised by an intensive campaign or drive of two weeks from March 30th to April 12th, inclusive, preceded by the campaign executive committee of the Lutheran layen's league. Theodore Lamprecht, chairman of New York City; Benjamin Bosse of Evansville, Ind., and Henry W. Horst of Rock Island, Ill. They have chosen as campaign directors Prof. W. C. Kohn of River Forest, who has appointed the Rev. F. C. Stenfert, the Rev. J. M. Baily, and Theo. W. Eckhart to be his collaborators..

The committee reports that it is receiving enthusiastic support from all parts of the U. S. A.

Monday, March 3rd, a meeting of representatives of Lutheran congregations belonging to the Missouri Synod will meet at the Salem Lutheran church of this city. The object of this meeting is to discuss the plans and prefect organization for the proposed drive in every local congregation.

About sixteen congregations are expected to send two or more delegates each.

To Protect the Quality, Welworth Blouses $2.50

Women throughout America have learned to expect a certain definite unvarying standard of quality in Welworth Blouses. These expectations never have nor never will be disappointed. To maintain that standard an advance, comparatively slight, now becomes imperative. And it might be remarked that this is the first change ever made in the price of these far-famed and deservedly-popular Blouses.

When it is ecalled that the prices of everything that enters into the construction of Blouses has advanced to such dizzy heights, keeping down the price of the Welworth for so long a time seems an achievement nothing short of remarkable. This has been due in part to greatly growing volume and greater economies; in part to provident, year-in-advance material purchases. Further advances however, have made this increase inevitable.

In the future as in the past the Welworth will always represent the very maximum of value at the price, and the unique Welworth service assures us that we will always be able to show the same new styles on the same day as they first appear in the Nation's recognized Style Centers.

This is the only store in this city where Welworth Blouses can be sold.

SAVE MONEY! SAVE SHOES!

In a long chase for a criminal, J. E. Jones, a secret service man of Chicago, wore one pair of shoes with Neolin Soles for nineteen months. This chase covering both American continents and Australia, ended in April, 1917. The shoes were then given a mechanic at Clearing, Ill., and were worn by him another seven months.

"Until I discovered shoes with Neolin Soles, I bought new shoes about every two months," said Mr. Jones.

Twenty-six months of wear under conditions such as these is indeed extraordinary even for Neolin Soles. But Neolin Soles are made by Science to be especially durable. They are comfortable and waterproof, too. You can get them on new shoes for men, women and children, or for re-soling. Manufactured by The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., Akron, Ohio, who also make Wingfoot Heels, guaranteed to outwear all other heels.

DON'T FUSS WITH MUSTARD PLASTERS!

Musterole Works Without the Blister—Easier, Quicker

There's no sense in mixing a mess of mustard, flour and water when you can easily relieve pain, soreness or stiffness with a little clean, white Musterole.

Musterole is made of pure oil of mustard and other helpful ingredients, combined in the form of the present white ointment. It takes the place of mustard plasters, and will not blister.

Musterole usually gives prompt relief from sore throat, bronchitis, tonsilitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet, colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia). 30c and 60c jars; hospital size $2.50.

MUSTEROLE
WILL NOT BLISTER

First A Cold, Then "Flu"?

At the first tickle in your nose or throat use a douche or gargle of Ma-oze Antiseptic Powder dissolved in warm water. Stop the cold immediately! It may turn into "flu" if you don't.

There's nothing so good to use as Ma-oze. It contains the most powerful antiseptic known to medical science as harmless to human tissue. Be safe. Get a package from your druggist for 25 cents—it will make nearly two gallons of the best antiseptic liquid. Larger sizes, 50 cents and $1.00 are cheaper yet. Don't forget it. It's safest to have it and use it often.

PRICES ON STOCK EXCHANGE UNCERTAIN

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—Pools and the professional element as a whole continued in absolute control of the stock market today but the shifting course of the prices made for considerable uncertainty thruout the session.

Steels, oils, motors and various unclassified spesialties were under constant pressure, while shippings leathers, distilling shares and an unusual assortment of equipment featured the long account.

A five point drop in general motors created unsettlement soon after the opening, numerous automobile issues and allied stocks losing 1 to four points. Sales amounted to 775,000 shares.

BLIZZARDS LIFT VALUE OF CORN

CHICAGO, Feb. 28.—Blizzard conditions prevailing in the west tended today to lift the value of corn and so too did apparently lessened chances that the hog price minimum would be removed. The market closed firm ½c lower to an advance of 2½c with May $1.25 to $1.25¾ and July $1.21⅜ to $1.21½. Oats finished unchanged to ⅞c higher and provisions unchanged to a gain of 50c.

Reports that the severest weather of the winter including temperatures 10 below zero had struck portions of the corn belt put the bulls at a disadvantage thruout the day in the corn market.

Oats borrowed grmness from corn.

BRADSTREET'T REPORT.

New Yorkkk Feb. 28.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say:

"While the trade and industrial pace is still of a cautious, in some sections, indeed, an even slow character evidences of moderate improvement in distribution are now too numerous to be denied. Certain it is that compared with a month ago, there are fewer poor reports and a resume of both wholesale and retail trade, of industria conditions and of collections reveals the general trend to be rather above than below fair. Stormy weather and a return of winter temperatures in th northern half of the country, with the natural effect on country roads at this ordinarily between seasons period, have not been altogether favorable but it is interesting to note that a number of reports refer to budding spring trade having been held back rather than winter goods having been benefitted by the normal February weather experience.

"To sum up the general trade movement has not only been fairly well sustained thruout the month just closing but some real progress has been scored and a survey will further back reveals that the business world has come thru the wnter in better shape than even some sanguine ones had predicted.

"Weekly bank clearings $5,-951,600,000."

MARCH HOG PRICE A MANY SIDED QUESTION

F. S. Snyder of Meat Division of Food Administration Made Interesting Statement Before Group of Packers.

During the past month conferences have been held between packers and representatives of the food administration, mainly with reference to meat supply for foreign countries. Some of the conferences have been in Washington and others in Chicago. The last of the Chicago conferences was held about a week ago at the federal building, with more than 50 packers present from many different states, the roster showing the name of Fred Begg of the Powers-Begg Co. of Jacksonville. Frederick S. Snyder, chief of the meat division and of the division of coordination of purchase of the U. S. food administration presided at that session. While the conference was not called for the purpose of considering the March price on hogs, an interesting discussion of that subject developed.

Mr. Snyder's views on the subject were recently made public and have very great general interest. There is far more to this question of maintaining a hog price for another month than the average citizen realizes, and judging from Mr. Snyder's statements there is little certainty that if the government control were released that there would be any permanent lowering of prices, and in fact the hogs might take a higher level. This is a question upon which leading livestock authorities hold different views. Same paragraphs from Mr. Snyder's very informing statement follow:

I will say at the outset that lacking information from Europe on the developments which will take place between now and next Monday, I shall feel unable to say to you that a course could be charted until that information was in hand. I am perfectly confident that a telegram sent out to the members of the Agricultural Advisory Committee would result in a practically unanimous, and perhaps entirely unanimous vote that $17.50 be maintained for the month of March, I am told today, within the last few minutes, that an informal expression on this subject coming from four of the five Class "B" packers is to the effect that they must go forward on the same basis that they are now on, and that they are prepared to vote for the $17.50 basis for March. That includes all of the Class "B" packers except Morris & Company, who have not had the matter presented to them. I little doubt but that they would take the same general view. That would leave the matter up to the Food Administration substantially, and to the Class "A" packers.

Present Price a Fair One.

Now, the maintenance of price in both directions is, of course, of some consequence. I mean by that that I shall be sorry to see twenty cent hogs, because I think the price the farmer is now receiving is fair, and to have twenty cent hogs pressed upon us simply would mean that the farmer would be receiving a higher price than I think the circumstances warrant. On the other hand, if the Teutonic markets open up and England returns this month to a normal basis of demand, and the demand continues, as it must, for relief work, and the shipments go out, whether your shipments or those of the Class "B" packers, it means that we are not going to have enough to go around and the market may run away from us.

Personally I am frank to say that in my judgment I should do what I could to prevent that. The way to prevent it, of course, would be to open up the supply of hogs in every direction to the markets, invite the Canadians to come in, as I invited them a little while ago to keep out, and I think they have accepted the invitation; and to open up the European markets to other fats, and facilitate the export of those fats, and of lard substitutes and barrelled beef, and so forth, and in that way do what I could to keep the thing from running too far in that direction. I am not at all confident that even all those measures will be effective in the month of April.

Board Acceded to Request.

The situation, of course, confronting us now is for March. The War Trade Board acceded to my request and imposed the limitations on exports to European countries, and they have made their licenses subject to the approval of the Food Administration as to price, which price is to be the reflected stabilized price which has been in force now for four months. They have the powers of an independent branch of Government to destroy that protection which at the moment is a very ample protection. You can see why that is so. If all the countries in Europe ceased to do centralized buying, and yet the Food Administration O. K'd. licenses for export only upon the basis of the stabilized prices, it would mean that that European price would be held rigidly, and there would be no difficulty whatever in maintaining stabilization indefinitely.

It is, however, against public policy to maintain that unreasonably. The Food Administration itself proposed only to extend its protection to the extent of its ability for the hogs farrowed last spring, and that, of course, necessitates their marketing within a reasonable period. Now many of them could be marketed. Many of them are being retained for breeding stock. Many of them are farrowed late and not in the spring, so it is clear that a stabilization plan would find its naturalend with the month of March under any ordinary circumstances.

Danger of Too High Prices

I think I can say to you, therefore, that I could not recommend as a matter of good policy, that a stabilization period be extended beyond that time, and I fancy there will be no need for it whatever. I think, further, that the danger, as I have already indicated, will be of prices running too high rather than they will require support of any kind.

With further reference to the March situation, it depends, as I have said, on the War Trade Board, and consequently it depends upon the opinion, in part, and the acts in part, of the purchasing agencies in Europe. If the whole situation is opened up widely in Europe to normal trading, I cannot believe that the War Trade Board will be willing further to keep up that bulwark of protection. I will say frankly, that I assume they will say that if we are on a pre-war basis in Europe we have no right to stay further on a war basis in this country.

I have told you everything that is in my mind. I propose to cable the impressions I have received from these conferences to Mr. Hoover, and to receive from him, when I return to Washington on Monday, the latest information as to the situation on the other side, and on Monday we will be able to reach some decision. I assume that stabilization is of value even to the concern which is not only not sharing in allotment orders, but never has. The concern which has never shared in allotment orders is buying upon the basis of the domestic market more nearly. The allotment concern is buying upon the basis of $17.50 stabilization, and they are probably suffering more in their domestic sales and profits and recouping themselves in part from their foreign sales, and it is a question in my mind whether they are so materially better off than concerns who are not under the allotment plan, provided the concerns who are not under the allotment plan are sufficiently removed from the centers of chief activity in the packing business. Smaller concerns in the south who are buying more nearly on a local basis and selling on the same general basis are not particularly interested, and are not very seriously affected, if they are sufficiently far out of the orbit and influence of this stabilization plan.

Desired Expression of Opinion

What I would like to get from you is an expression of opinion as to whether or not you would like in case the conditions are favorable for the purpose, to vote for the extension of the plan to the month of March, with the understanding that your vote means nothing except an expression of opinion, which might be taken advantage of, and which would then, if you voted affirmatively and unanimously, be taken as an expression of opinion upon which we might act in Washington, without, perhaps, the necessity of calling a meeting. On the other hand, if the action taken in Europe were of such a character that we knew the period of stabilization was destroyed so far as Europe was concerned, I expect to send you a message to that effect, stating that the market situation was such that conditions were necessarily returned to normal.

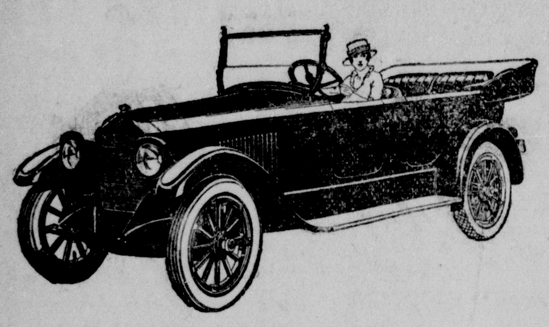

Increase in the Market.

In that case I suppose the immediate effect would be some disturbance. I should ask the Railroad Administration to continue the retarding effect of an excess of hogs coming to the market, and while I should look for a disturbance perhaps for a week or so, I should look for an eventual increase in the market, and that increase would come and go temporarily, based upon the normal supply and demand, and would be more likely to get out of hand eventually and into high prices than it would if general stabilization existed.

If an announcement went out on the $17.50 program, I believe that would have the effect of holding the prices down on the basis that the expectation of the country was that a $17.50 price would be maintained. On the other hand, if we had a sag in price following the loss of confidence in the situation, and then the market went higher on the return swing of the pendulum, I should expect it to go higher than it would under other circumstances.

Those are opinions based upon experience in the last few months in dealing with the general situation, and also, of course, upon some thirty years experience in this general line of business.

Bought Millions of Dollars Worth of Liberty Bonds.

The members of said synod have enthusiastically subscribed for a large number of Liberty Bonds. Almost every congregation knows the approximate amount of Liberty Bonds purchased by its members. A resolution was adopted that all congregations be asked to raise a sum which would equal at least 10 per cent of the Liberty Bonds purchased by their own membership and donate the same to the endowment fund.

To Protect the Quality, Welworth Blouses $2.50

Women throughout America have learned to expect a certain definite unvarying standard of quality in Welworth Blouses. These expectations never have nor never will be disappointed. To maintain that standard an advance, comparatively slight, now becomes imperative. And it might be remarked that this is the first change ever made in the price of these far-famed and deservedly-popular Blouses.

When it is ecalled that the prices of everything that enters into the construction of Blouses has advanced to such dizzy heights, keeping down the price of the Welworth for so long a time seems an achievement nothing short of remarkable. This has been due in part to greatly growing volume and greater economies; in part to provident, year-in-advance material purchases. Further advances however, have made this increase inevitable.

In the future as in the past the Welworth will always represent the very maximum of value at the price, and the unique Welworth service assures us that we will always be able to show the same new styles on the same day as they first appear in the Nation's recognized Style Centers.

This is the only store in this city where Welworth Blouses can be sold.

SAVE MONEY! SAVE SHOES!

In a long chase for a criminal, J. E. Jones, a secret service man of Chicago, wore one pair of shoes with Neolin Soles for nineteen months. This chase covering both American continents and Australia, ended in April, 1917. The shoes were then given a mechanic at Clearing, Ill., and were worn by him another seven months.

"Until I discovered shoes with Neolin Soles, I bought new shoes about every two months," said Mr. Jones.

Twenty-six months of wear under conditions such as these is indeed extraordinary even for Neolin Soles. But Neolin Soles are made by Science to be especially durable. They are comfortable and waterproof, too. You can get them on new shoes for men, women and children, or for re-soling. Manufactured by The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., Akron, Ohio, who also make Wingfoot Heels, guaranteed to outwear all other heels.

DON'T FUSS WITH MUSTARD PLASTERS!

Musterole Works Without the Blister—Easier, Quicker

There's no sense in mixing a mess of mustard, flour and water when you can easily relieve pain, soreness or stiffness with a little clean, white Musterole.

Musterole is made of pure oil of mustard and other helpful ingredients, combined in the form of the present white ointment. It takes the place of mustard plasters, and will not blister.

Musterole usually gives prompt relief from sore throat, bronchitis, tonsilitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet, colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia).

30c and 60c jars; hospital size $2.50.

MUSTEROLE
WILL NOT BLISTER

First A Cold, Then "Flu"?

At the first tickle in your nose or throat use a douche or gargle of Ma-oze Antiseptic Powder dissolved in warm water. Stop the cold immediately! It may turn into "flu" if you don't.

There's nothing so good to use as Ma-oze. It contains the most powerful antiseptic known to medical science as harmless to human tissue. Be safe. Get a package from your druggist for 25 cents—it will make nearly two gallons of the best antiseptic liquid. Larger sizes, 50 cents and $1.00 are cheaper yet. Don't forget it. It's safest to have it and use it often.

PRICES ON STOCK EXCHANGE UNCERTAIN

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—Pools and the professional element as a whole continued in absolute control of the stock market today but the shifting course of the prices made for considerable uncertainty thruout the session.

Steels, oils, motors and various unclassified spesialties were under constant pressure, while shippings leathers, distilling shares and an unusual assortment of equipment featured the long account.

A five point drop in general motors created unsettlement soon after the opening, numerous automobile issues and allied stocks losing 1 to four points. Sales amounted to 775,000 shares.

BLIZZARDS LIFT VALUE OF CORN

CHICAGO, Feb. 28.—Blizzard conditions prevailing in the west tended today to lift the value of corn and so too did apparently lessened chances that the hog price minimum would be removed. The market closed firm ½c lower to an advance of 2½c with May $1.25 to $1.25⅜ and July $1.21⅜ to $1.21½. Oats finished unchanged to ⅞c higher and provisions unchanged to a gain of 50c.

Reports that the severest weather of the winter including temperatures 10 below zero had struck portions of the corn belt put the bulls at a disadvantage thruout the day in the corn market.

Oats borrowed grmness from corn.

BRADSTREET'T REPORT.
New Yorkkk Feb. 28.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say:

"While the trade and industrial pace is still of a cautious, in some sections, indeed, an even slow character evidences of moderate improvement in distribution are now too numerous to be denied. Certain it is that copmared with a month ago, there are fewer poor reports and a resume of both wholesale and retail trade, of industria conditions and of collections reveals the general trend to be rather above than below fair. Stormy weather and a return of winter temperatures in th northern half of the country, with the natural effect on country roads at this ordinarily between seasons period, have not been altogether favorable but it is interesting to note that a number of reports refer to budding spring trade having been held back rather than winter goods having been benefitted by the normal February weather experience.

"To sum up the general trade movement has not only been fairly well sustained thruout the month, just closing but some real progress has been scored and a survey still further back reveals that the business world has come thru the wnter in better shape than even some sanguine ones had predicted.

"Weekly bank clearings $5,-951,600,000."

WHITE HALL SOLDIER ARRIVES HOME

Was In 60th Artillery Shock Troops—Private Dean Raines Expected Home Soon — White Hall News Notes.

White Hall, Feb. 28—Wagoner Henry Blatchley, of the 60th Artillery, shock troops, arrived here Thursday night, having received his discharge papers at Jefferson Barracks during the day, and is the guest of the Stubblefields. He was born and reared at White Hall, he being the son of M. E. Blatchley, who has resided at Garden City, Kansas, for a number of years, but the soldier has been here a good deal of the time sine the parents left. He sailed for France, April 23, 1918, and while he came thru with no injury he has had wonderful experiences. He was with heavy artillery, which served with several divisions on detached duty. His closest call occurred during the last big drive about ten days before the signing of the armistice. He was stalled on a hill above Cornay, when a projectile, called a "geeican," struck his vest button and fell to the ground without exploding. The 60th Artillery was composed of 1,600 shock troops, and Blatchley has a diary that gives some interesting figures, some of which are: Total shots fired, 35,000; pounds of steel fired, 3,360,000 or 1,619 tons, shots fired at the last big drive at Fleville, November 1, 1918, 4,500; days on the front, 75; days under fire, 60. He describes their G. F. P. gun as follows: extreme range, 155 milimetres, 12 to 15 miles; favorable range, 5 to 8 miles, base 6.2 feet length of rifle, 19.5 feet; weight 28,930 pounds. Blatchley will proceed to Kansas soon to greet his parents. He is a wonderful specimen of young manhood.

Raines Receives Final Touches

Private Dean Raines, probably the most mangled among the White Hall boys who survived the war, is expected from Fort Des Moines in a few days, where he has been under treatment for about six months since returning to this country from France. He was detained some time awaiting a steel plate that has been placed on his breast above the heart, and this is said to have fitted him out well enough to be allowed to come on home. He is a son of Rev. J. O. Raines.

Will Discus Bolshevism.

There is an unusual amount of interest in the announcement by Rev. E. C. Lucas that his subject at the Christian church next Sunday evening will be "Bolshevism —Cause and Cure." Rev. Mr. Lucas has been a strong supporter of the Wilson administration during the war, but his attitude on public questions since that time has been out of line with his previous position, and this gives added interest in what he will have to say next Sunday evening, as he is a close observer and student of the subject since it became a menace.

GOOD ROADS MEETING AT CONCORD

William Zahn, an enterprising and wide awake citizen of Concord precinct, is arranging for a good roads meeting in his town Monday evening on which occasion Judge Paul Samuells and Edward Williamson are to be present and address the meeting and endeavor to secure additional members. One object of the meeting is to secure the routing of the Burlington way thru Arenzville and Concord and to labor generally in the interest of better highways. There should be a good attendance and an interest in the gathering. Within a week past there have been accounts of four families moving from this state to Ohio and in every instance one attraction of the Buckeye state was the hard roads.
